Gladiolus Seed

The growing of the gladiolus from seed is one of the most delightful and interesting of all gardening experiences and it is one that any flower lover may enjoy. The seed is as easily grown in greenhouses, open gardens, boxes and flower pots as that of any other flower or vegetable and no one can foretell what new colors, new markings, new forms and types will appear. With self pollenized seed there is no telling what will happen but in many instances just as remarkable specimens are produced as from hand pollenized seed. With hand pollenized seed the results are usually forward, that is, the characteristics of both parents are merged into one. This, one of the most fascinating and most profitable phases of all flower growing, has been left almost entirely to breeders and specialists who naturally prefer to grow all of their own seed and then offer their choicest seedlings named to the public in the form of bulbs.

The average gardener, the vast majority of flower lovers, even most gladiolus enthusiasts do not have the time and the stock to raise seed, and commercially the seed is practically unobtainable, but after you once have the seed, then there is absolutely nothing mysterious nor difficult about growing the seed into bulblets and many good sized bulbs the first year, most of which will bloom the second year.

Consequently we feel we are supplying a long felt want when we offer hand pollenized gladiolus seed of the choicest crosses, seed of named varieties self pollenized, self pollenized seed in mixtures, and when we offer to make crosses upon such named varieties as you wish. In this folder you will find the list of named varieties that we grow (and we are constantly adding new choice varieties). You may figure out such crosses that you think should give the results you desire, send us the names of the varieties and tell us which way you wish them crossed and we will make the crosses if possible. There is positively no obligation or expense for this. If we get seed from such a cross we will communicate with you and you can then buy the seed or leave it alone, just as you like. If we do not sell the seed, we will grow it. You may also order self pollenized seed of any named variety under these same conditions. All requests or orders for this must be in and on file with us by April first to enable us to plant our stock accordingly.

While we offer no warranty expressed or implied for our seed (as is the usual custom of the nursery and seed trade), we are nevertheless anxious that every purchaser of our seed shall receive entire satisfaction, and to that end we earnestly request a full report as to germination, bulblets and bulbs and bloom obtained.

Complete cultural directions with each order.

All orders delivered prepaid.

Cash with order. No orders accepted for less than $1.00.

SOUTH AFRICAN WILD GLADIOLUS SEED

Native wild species are collected and grown for us by a nursery in South Africa, expressly for the seed, which in the wild states comes true.

PLEASE NOTE—As the South African seasons are different from ours, we cannot list all of this season's crop until we receive it. We will mail this list to everyone as soon as we receive the seed.
